Draft Short Stay Accommodation Local Law

Council's 2022-23 Budget proposed the introduction of a $400 fee for short-term accommodation providers.

This proposal was similar to fees introduced by other municipalities to address the inequity between registered visitor accommodation providers e.g. motels and hotels, which pay a commercial rate and must meet strict registration requirements, and those also providing visitor accommodation through newer platforms such as Airbnb, which do not.

In order to implement the new fee, Council has proposed a new local law specific to short stay accommodation. This local law would also introduce a code of conduct to help govern the behaviour of guests.

Council is inviting feedback from the community on the proposal local law.
