Phone survey will run from January 29 until mid-March

From January 29 through until mid-March, residents may receive a call from National Field Services as part of the Community Satisfaction Survey.

This survey is held annually, with most Victorian Councils taking part.

Participants will be asked to share their views on the Warrnambool City Council's performance across a range of key areas.

We know that scam calls are becoming more and more prevalent, so to make sure the caller is genuine, keep these points in mind:

- They will never ask for people by name
- They will always identify themselves as National Field Services and tell you their name
- They will always say how long the survey is expected to take
- The call will come from a landline with a (03) 9977 prefix – never from a mobile.

Participant details and individual results are confidential, and only the overall results will be shared with Council.

The results of previous surveys are published online: www.warrnambool.vic.gov.au/community-satisfaction-surveys

Survey results are also available on the Victorian Government's Know Your Council website: www.vic.gov.au/know-your-council
